

Electronic Filing of 1099s

Electronic submission of 1099s is done differently for state and federal.

Federal 1099 Submission

Federal submission of the 1099 is done through the Filing Information Returns Electronically (FIRE) portal. The portal has a separate area for test submissions (<https://fire.test.irs.gov/>) and final submissions (<https://fire.irs.gov>).

The two sites (test and final) are completely independent. A separate user name and password is required for each site. The same credentials may be used for both. Changing the password on the test site, however, does not update the password on the final site, and vice versa.

The system allows submitting multiple test files. Test files should be submitted to ensure that there have been no changes in format from the previous year.

Submitting a Test File

1. From the AP Main Menu, click on Reports, then Forms 1099, and then TXT Export for Federal. This will open the Federal 1099 FIRE Exports Form.
2. At the bottom of the Federal 1099 FIRE Exports Form, there is a button to create the file. Ensure that the year and minimum 1099 amount fields are set correctly, choose the "Test" radio button, and then click the Create File button.

The screenshot shows a form with the following fields and controls:

Year:	Min. 1099 Amt:	<input checked="" type="radio"/> Test	Create File

- FIRE Production System
- Choose a File Type
 - Test File
 - Original File
 - Replacement File
 - Correction File
 - Amended File
 - Main Menu

The main content area is titled "Definitions of File Types" and contains the following information:

- Original File
An information return that has never been reported.
- Replacement File
If an original or correction information return is bad (FILE STATUS = BAD), it must be sent as a replacement file after you fix the errors.
- Amended/Correction File
An information return submitted by the transmitter to correct an information return that was previously submitted and processed by the IRS (FILE STATUS = GOOD), but contained erroneous data.

An amended/correction file will only contain the records in error, not the entire original submission. If you are sending a 1042-S file, you would click on Amended File. Otherwise, click on Correction File.
- Test File
This option is used to test your files for the upcoming tax year.

Note: Test submissions are not accepted at this site. If you are trying to submit test submissions, go to fire.test.irs.gov. Test dates are from November through February.
